Witness Kept His Nerve.

However, when Mr. Vickers turned the witness over to the prisoner's lawyer Mr. Simpson cut his probing very short. For the space of sixty seconds the little lawyer went at Seigel like a tiger but the builet-headed conductor refused to get tangled up, whereat Simpson dropped him quick.

Seigel was followed by Peter Coogan, night watchman employed at the tube works near Lampblack Swsmp. Coogan was patrolling in the vicinity of the swamp at 10.30 oc., ick on Christmas right when a man and woman passed him. The woman wore a red diess and a black hat, with either a white flower or white feather in it.

Dickinson accompanied Whitmore and

DAVID HENDERSON DEAD.

CHICAGO, May 27.—David Henderson, veteran theatrical manager and producer, died at a sanitarium here last night after a long lliness.

David Henderson was a pioneer in the production of theatrical performances of the extravaganza type, and a number of players who afterward attained much prominence were introduced to the public under his management. His activities in theatrical affairs ceased several years ago, owing to failing health. CHICAGO, May 27 .- David Hender-
